Legum Doctor (LL.D. Doctor of Laws in English) is a doctorate-level academic degree in law, or an honorary doctorate, depending on the jurisdiction. The double L in the abbreviation refers to the early practice in the University of Cambridge to teach both Canon Law and Civil Law, the double L indicating the plural, Doctor of both laws. This contrasts with the practice of the University of Oxford where the degree that survived from the Middle Ages is the DCL or Doctor of Civil Law (only).

Canada

Most Canadian universities that award the degree of Doctor of Laws (LL.D.) award it only as an honorary degree, but typically when awarded by a law school, it is an earned degree. Of the universities in Canada that offer earned doctorates in law, four (University of Ottawa,^[1] University of Montreal,^[2] Laval University,^[3] and University of Quebec at Montreal^[4]) offer the LL.D.

United States

In the United States of America, the LL.D. is awarded as an honorary degree only.

Business Executive Clark E. Parker Joins AQMD Board

June 15, 2012

Los Angeles business executive Clark E. Parker, Ph.D., was recently sworn in as the newest member of the South Coast Air Quality Management District's Governing Board. Parker was appointed to the AQMD Board by the state Senate Rules Committee and will serve a 3 ½-year term ending on Jan. 15, 2016.

Parker is the founder and chief executive officer of Spectrum Surveillance Systems and View Park Development Corp. He is a licensed general contractor and real estate developer. He was a vice president for PennCorp Financial Group Inc. for 15 years, heading the firm's corporate acquisitions. He worked for IBM in the 1960s, marketing hardware and software to the oil and gas, banking and insurance industries. Parker began his career in the early 1960s at Tidewater Oil Co. and Getty Oil Co. While there, he created several computer programs simulating refinery operations.

Parker serves as an alternate member of the California Coastal Commission and as an advisory committee member for the California Professional Fiduciaries Bureau. He has served on the state Senate Select Committee on Telecommunication, as an advisor to the California Superintendent of Public Instruction and as an advisory member of the University of California Santa Barbara Foundation Board.

Parker is a longtime member of the boards of several community based non-profit organizations including Today's Fresh Start Charter School and Golden Day Schools. He is the honorary consul general for the Central African Republic.

Parker will chair AQMD's Refinery Committee. He will also serve on AQMD's Finance, Legislative, Mobile Source and Personnel committees and as AQMD's representative on the California Fuel Cell Partnership.

AQMD is the air pollution control agency for Orange County and major portions of Los Angeles, San Bernardino and Riverside counties.
