

From: James E. Enstrom <jenstrom@ucla.edu>

Sent: Tuesday, May 10, 2016 8:50 AM

To: 'Alex Hall' <alexhall@atmos.ucla.edu>

Cc: 'Aradhna Tripathi' <ripple@ess.ucla.edu>; 'Madelyn Glickfeld' <madelyn.glickfeld@ioes.ucla.edu>; 'Erik M. Conway' <erik.m.conway@jpl.nasa.gov>; 'Glen M. MacDonald' <macdonal@geog.ucla.edu>; 'Matthew E. Kahn' <mkahn@ioes.ucla.edu>

Subject: Request for UCLA IOES AGW Debate Between Hall and Singer

May 10, 2016

Alex Hall, Ph.D.
Professor of Climate Science and Faculty Member
UCLA Institute of the Environment and Sustainability
alexhall@atmos.ucla.edu

Dear Professor Hall,

Since Madelyn Glickfeld has not responded to my April 29 email message below, I request that you engage in an IOES debate about AGW with Dr. S. Frederick Singer. On May 2 I watched "Climate Hustle" in Burbank and then on May 3 I watched Jimmy Kimmel (<http://www.newsbusters.org/blogs/nb/matthew-balan/2016/05/03/abcs-kimmel-mocks-climate-skeptics-airs-fake-psa-featuring>), IOES Professor Aradhna Tripathi (<http://www.environment.ucla.edu/people/aradhna-tripati>), and you (<http://www.environment.ucla.edu/people/alex-hall>) mock the movie. A debate between you and Dr. Singer would be particularly appropriate since he and two other renowned AGW skeptics have Ph.D. degrees from Princeton University, as do you. Please examine the ICC10 Keynote link below for details about Dr. Singer. Please respond to my request for an IOES debate about AGW.

Thank you very much for your consideration.

Sincerely yours,

James E. Enstrom, Ph.D., M.P.H.
UCLA and Scientific Integrity Institute
jenstrom@ucla.edu
(310) 472-4274

From: James E. Enstrom <jenstrom@ucla.edu>
Sent: Friday, April 29, 2016 5:25 PM
To: 'Madelyn Glickfeld' <madelyn.glickfeld@ioes.ucla.edu>
Subject: Request for UCLA IOES Debate on Man-Made Global Warming

April 29, 2016

Madelyn Glickfeld
Assistant Director for Outreach and Strategic Initiatives
UCLA Institute of the Environment and Sustainability
La Kretz Hall, Suite 300
Los Angeles, CA 90095-1496
madelyn.glickfeld@ioes.ucla.edu

Dear Ms. Glickfeld,

As you may recall, I gave a November 28, 2011 IOES Lecture “Does Fine Particulate Matter Kill Californians? An Epidemiologic and Regulatory Controversy” (<http://www.environment.ucla.edu/events/archive/event667.html>), which is permanently posted on a CARB website (http://www.arb.ca.gov/lists/gmbond2011/3-ioes_seminar_does_particulate_matter_kill_californians_enstrom_112811.pdf). I am writing now to inform IOES of the nationwide May 2 at 7 PM screening of the “Climate Hustle” movie (<http://townhall.com/columnists/pauldriessen/2016/04/28/climate-hustle-demolishes-climate-alarmism-n2154518>). Also, I am writing to request that IOES sponsor a scientific debate about man-made Global Warming (AGW). IOES could select the scientist to present the “97% consensus” view about AGW and I recommend the following two scientists to present the skeptical view of AGW: S. Frederick Singer, Ph.D. (<http://climateconferences.heartland.org/william-happer-iccc10-keynote/>) or Richard S. Lindzen, Ph.D. (<https://www.facebook.com/prageru/videos/1054440531265469/>). I think that such a debate would be particularly valuable at this time. Please contact me so that we can discuss the debate further.

Thank you very much for your consideration.

Sincerely yours,

James E. Enstrom, Ph.D., M.P.H.
UCLA and Scientific Integrity Institute
jenstrom@ucla.edu
(310) 472-4274